the family maths charity

Trustee for Maths on Toast

Role description

Introduction

Maths on Toast is the family maths charity. Our vision is to become the go-to voluntary organisation for family maths in the UK, transforming children's and parents' experience of doing maths together.

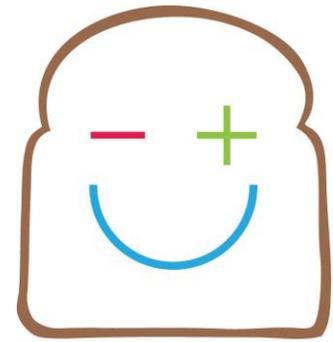

Founded in 2012 we historically work with families and communities, primarily in Camden, Brent and surrounding boroughs. Our mission is to help every family feel positive, empowered and inspired about maths – that maths is something that they can do and enjoy, and overcoming barriers such as negative attitudes to maths and maths anxiety.

We engage families in hands-on, exploratory, creative maths and work collaboratively with libraries, community settings, schools, family charities and learning/arts organisations to offer a wide range of fun events, projects, programmes, products and services. Our charity has big ambitions to grow in the coming years, developing programmes of work that can extend our reach. As our strategic plans develop, you can play a part in taking the charity's work to a whole new level - and to put us on a sustainable footing for the future.

This Trustee role provides an opportunity to make a real difference to improving attitudes to mathematics in the UK.

About the role

Maths on Toast is looking to appoint a new Trustee with experience of working with community organisations and/or charities. Given our range of stakeholders, it is vital that we continue to be cognisant of the needs of children and their families in marginalised communities and we are equipped to build meaningful relationships. You may have experience of working with a family or youth charity, a housing association, or a local authority.
